Chorus:

*For every act of terror there's a thousand acts of kindness,
 For every act of hate there's a thousand more of love,
 For every act of vengeance there's a thousand of forgiveness,
 This world is full of beauty, this world is full of love.*

You listen to the TV, you'd think the world was full of horror.
 You listen to the talkback, you'd think the world was bent on harm.
 You listen to the politicians, you'd think there's danger all around us.
 You wouldn't just be alert, you'd be alarmed.

Chorus

There's people who are teachers, there's people who are nurses,
 There's people who are gardeners, there's people who are kind,
 There's people who give everything to make the world a better place,
 They're here and there and everywhere, just seek and you will find.

Chorus

So take the time to stop and think, take the time to look around,
 Take the time to balance things, take the time to smell the flowers,
 You'll see peace and tranquillity, you'll see endless generosity,
 You'll see that it's up to you and me, 'cos you know we've got the power.

Chorus (twice)
